The foundation of Nurminen Heavy's expertise lies in experience of more than 40,000 special transports, long traditions and skilful and committed staff. Our clients are manufacturers and end users of oversized and heavy items as well as forwarders and suppliers in this sector. Nurminen Heavy's core competence is the end-to-end management of demanding special transport projects, where our extensive international partner network and good relations with authorities are of invaluable assistance. Nurminen Heavy has over 35 years of experience in Russian transports.

Nurminen Heavy operates in Europe, Baltic countries, Russia and other CIS countries.

Tailored service package

Nurminen Heavy's comprehensive solutions cover the entire special transport process from start to finish. We put together the best and most cost-effective solutions for the specific needs of the customer, based on our long experience and optimal use of equipment, as well as our wide knowledge of routes and local conditions. We submit our quotes quickly and reliably, so that the customer knows the total costs already when placing the order. Successful transport is ensured by smooth contacts and an account manager who knows the needs of each customer.

Value-added services

Our range of services also includes all the necessary value-added services, such as lifting or hauling, load protection, packing, combined transports and other required services. Moreover, it is possible to flexibly integrate other Nurminen Logistics services into a comprehensive solution, including rail transport, forwarding and warehousing in an area specially designed for heavy items – with a lifting capacity of up to 80 tons – at the logistics centre in Vuosaari Harbour, Helsinki.

Versatile equipment

Our equipment is versatile and well serviced in advance, and it is used by experienced and professional staff, which guarantees reliable transport according to plan. Our capacity is flexible: we can provide the right equipment for every customer. In addition to its own equipment, Nurminen Heavy has access to a diverse fleet of equipment through its partner network.
